

TALISMAN

PUBLISHED BY CLASS OF 1950, RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL, RUTLAND, VERMONT
 PATRICIA MAUER, Editor-in-Chief AGNES BIZDIKIAN, Business Manager

Dedication

To Miss Vera V. Egelston and to Miss Madeline Flynn we, the Class of 1950, dedicate this, the twenty-first Talisman.

Will this year's business recession affect us? Will all of last year's advertisers be as generous again? Will the receipts and expenditures balance? Miss Egelston by long hours of tedious application managed to surmount the financial obstacles confronting the business board.

From vague ideas and proposed layouts at early-in-the-year staff meetings, through the rubber cement and dummy stages, through the proof-reading and printing, Miss Flynn has watched our yearbook materialize. Through her understanding guidance we avoided likely pitfalls.

To the faculty advisors of the Talisman, Miss Egelston and Miss Flynn, we the members of the graduating class wish to say, "Thank you," for the service you have rendered us.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

The Tick-Tock of Rutland High School

Teachers, Students and Classmates

ARTHUR M. GUILD, PRINCIPAL

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

MRS. L. MABEL MORRILL

Mrs. L. Mabel Morrill is head of the English department. As a project, a group of her third year English students brought to Rutland a seventeen year old Japanese boy, now studying in Plainfield, Vermont.

MISS CAROLYN L. ALLEN

How to read a newspaper properly is demonstrated by Miss Carolyn L. Allen to members of the freshman class. During our first year at Rutland High School, we are introduced to such classics as Abraham Lincoln Grows Up and The Lady of the Lake.

MISS MADELINE FLYNN

With their practical classes in the Trade and Industrial Department, shop students take purely academic subjects. Here, a class of shop boys are being taught English by Miss Madeline Flynn.

MISS AUDREY ST. CLAIR

Miss Audrey St. Clair's seniors receive the finishing touches on their high school English education. During the year they participate in public speaking, write essays and short stories, and read classical literature.

FRENCH, LATIN, MATH

MISS HELEN M. BAILEY

Parlez-vous francais? No, then you were never a member of Miss Helen M. Bailey's classes in elementary and advanced French. Here, she is teaching a French I class.

MISS MADELINE S. BUTTLES

Miss Madeline S. Buttles instructs some college preparatory students in Latin. This year she also served as a guidance counselor.

MR. WILLIAM K. ROOT

Mr. William K. Root, instructor of mathematics, is conducting a plane geometry class. He also teaches intermediate algebra, trigonometry, and solid geometry.

ART, MUSIC, HOMEMAKING, LIBRARY

MISS LUCY H. DOANE

All phases of art are studied by students in Miss Lucy H. Doane's drawing and painting classes. Talent and theory are combined to produce interesting results.

MR. GEORGE H. LOW

The music rises or fades in unison with a wave of Mr. George H. Low's baton. This is a glimpse of the band during their practice session.

MISS MARY E. BRESNAHAN

"It looks good enough to eat". The girls have set an attractive table—one of many skills to be acquired in Miss Mary E. Bresnahan's classes in Home Economics.

MRS. ELIZABETH B. GREENE

The library in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Greene is the scene of various pursuits. Some pupils study earnestly, some browse, and some few waste time. Around four thousand books are available in our school library.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

MR. ELLERY R. PURDY

Mr. Ellery R. Purdy outlines a battle front to an United States History class. Mr. Purdy in addition to being head of the Social Studies Department serves as Assistant Principal.

MR. HOWARD W. DOUGLAS

MR. LLOYD E. FLAITS

Mr. Lloyd E. Flaits added to his social science subjects a class in first year algebra this year. Here, he shows how to balance an equation.

MISS KATHERINE M. MORAN

The tours conducted annually through the Riverside Reformatory by Miss Katherine M. Moran have become the high point of her sociology classes. She also has classes in history and economics.

COMMERCIAL AND DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

MR. LEWIS F. MCKERLEY

The fundamentals of business procedures are taught by the Commercial and Distributive Education Department headed by Mr. Lewis F. McKerley. Here, he explains the purposes of shorthand.

MISS VERA V. EGELESTON

The members of Miss Vera V. Egeleston's second year class are practicing shorthand symbols. These seniors are applying principles soon to be used in their first jobs.

MISS MARIE W. JOHNSON

Typing is an asset in many phases of life. Miss Marie W. Johnson teaches proficiency in the use of the typewriter.

MR. PAUL W. TOTH

SCIENCE COURSES

MR. EDMUND L. BOYCE

MR. JAMES L. CANARY

The teacher of chemistry, physics and drivers' training is watching several senior chemistry students complete an experiment in Room 11.

MR. LEO F. KEEFE

In his classes in general science, Mr. Leo F. Keefe lays the foundation for further scientific study. He also teaches commercial geography.

MR. THOMAS H. WHITE

MR. HENRY L. DOLL

Mr. Henry L. Doll instructs members of the freshman class in the use of machinery. Mr. Doll supervises the Trade and Industrial Department.

MR. LEWIS W. CROSSMAN

A course popular with junior and senior boys is auto mechanics. Mr. Lewis H. Crossman shows interested boys how to repair and install auto parts.

MR. RICHARD P. HEBERT

Working with all sorts and types of machinery, boys under Mr. Richard P. Hebert's instruction are being trained to earn a livelihood.

MR. WILLIAM R. MILLER

Another course offered in the Trade and Industrial Department is metal working. Mr. William R. Miller is in charge of this division.

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

HEALTH

SCHOOL NURSES

Miss S. Elizabeth Keefe and Miss Mary Margaret Burke check a student's hearing as part of the health program offered to R. H. S.'ers.

SCHOOL HYGIENIST

Rutland pupils are fortunate to have a dental hygienist, Mrs. Irene Q. Cocklin, examine their teeth periodically.

MISS JUDITH SWIFT

In Miss Judith Swift's physical education class we see an out-of-bounds play during a basketball game.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

MR. CLARENCE A. BUGBEE

A pupil is being assisted in straddling the horse in a boys' class in physical education by Mr. Clarence A. Bugbee.

CLERK

MISS HELEN T. PERRY
Signing admission and dismissal slips, producing the bulletin, assigning students to detention are but a few of the duties of Miss Helen T. Perry, the high school secretary.

ROBERT H. PERKINS

The President Speaks

As we, the members of the Class of 1950, come together for a last few moments, many thoughts and memories run through our minds. We think of the past years of our lives as a great fellowship with others. It is like a story as we look back and see ourselves working together, growing into what we are today. Those years were filled with pleasant experiences and memories which will remain with us always. Never again will we be able to live and enjoy such happiness. Instead, we must, for the first time, enter into an entirely different world, a world of conflict and constant strife for existence. We must brave the hardships and discomfort which accompany maturity. We are obliged to put into use the equipment which has been placed before us. It is our duty to aid in the development of this great world in which we live. We are the pillars of the years to come, the backbone of the future. Upon our shoulders lies the world of tomorrow, and we must fulfill the task of supporting it.

As we recall these last years of our education, we see that our class has been guided by very capable instructors. The faculty and personnel, along with our parents, have contributed much to our advancement. Now that we have received our preparation, it is up to us to produce qualities for which we will be proud in years to come.

ROBERT PERKINS,
President.

TEN INDUCTED INTO LOCAL CHAPTER IN MARCH CEREMONY NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Seated: Agnes Bizdikian, Robert Perkins, Nancy Buchheim, Barbara Adams, James Guild, Shirley Schofield.
Standing: Carlene Johnson, James Phillips, Mary Jeffords, Robert Crawford, Miss Marie W. Johnson, Faculty Adviser: Lindley Squires, Jane Perkins, Robert Hudson, Barbara Rosen.

National Honor Society

The activities of the National Honor Society continued this year with high spirits. President, Barbara Adams; Vice President, James Guild; Secretary, Nancy Buchheim; Treasurer, Robert Perkins; and Faculty Advisor, Miss Marie Johnson held several informal meetings to plan the year's events. At Christmas time a party at the Hotel Berwick was planned and directed by the members for the Alumni.

At the basketball games Barbara Adams, Nancy Buchheim, and a few helpers sold candy. Later, the new members sold refreshments at the track meets and baseball games.

As March approached, the National Honor Society was very pleased to receive an invitation to induct the first members into the new Poultney High School chapter. On March 16, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Arthur Guild, and the members traveled westward to induct twenty-two members and to spend a very pleasant afternoon.

On March 30, the induction ceremony at Rutland High was presented in a duly serious and beautiful assembly. After the old members gave their definitions of the four necessary qualities for admission into the society, Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character, the names of the new members were announced. As the seniors and juniors came to the stage properly radiant and pleased, they were presented with the conventional yellow rose and candle. The latter they lighted from the symbolic central candle in the candelabra. The seniors were Agnes Bizdikian, Richard Hudson, Mary Jeffords, Shirley Schofield, and Lindley Squires. Robert Crawford, Carlene Johnson, Jane Perkins, James Phillips and Barbara Rosen were the honored juniors. Reverend Harvey D. Butterfield spoke to the students on "Character." He used as examples people whom we all know.

That evening all members ate at the Wheeler Williams and later saw a movie. Mr. and Mrs. Guild were present.

Class Song

Words by JEAN LeCLAIR, CYNTHIA SULLIVAN

Music by LINDLEY SQUIRES

We've only started on life's trail.
We've a long, long way to go.
We've a high school education,
But that's not much you know.
We've many years of college
Before we can conquer the world,
But our heads are full of visions
Of plans to be unfurled.

No more we'll gather on the field
To watch a high school game,
Nor cheer our team to victory
In sunshine or in rain.

We hate to leave you, classmates.
We've learned to love you all.
We've been together always,
But we're answering the call.
So goodbye, fellow students,
We are starting on our way.
We wish you all the best of luck;
May we meet again some day.

CLASS MOTTO

"I Remember Mama"

On December 1 and 2, the senior class successfully presented "I Remember Mama," a two-act comedy by John Van Druten. The play was a difficult one to present because of the dialect, staging and many properties involved. However, the seniors worked with much enthusiasm and after several weeks of hard work the play was performed before two capacity audiences.

The action of the play takes place in a little San Francisco home in 1910. The story was introduced by the eldest daughter of the Hansens, Katrin (Jean Stevens) whose desire to be an author led her to write the amusing and tragic occurrences that happened to her family. The most outstanding member was, of course, Mama (Nancy Buchheim) around whom the family life revolved. Her sympathetic and understanding nature was portrayed excellently. The other members of the family were Papa (Miles Jenney), Dagmar (Jean McGinley), Christine (Martha Edson), Nels (William Battles), and, of course, Uncle Elizabeth (Buddy White), Dagmar's cat.

Other interesting characters were the three aunts, Jenny (Beverly Gould), Trina (Jean LeClair), and Sigrid (Olivene Seward). Trina was faced with the serious but amusing problem of wanting to marry Peter Torkelson (Milton White), a funeral director. With Mama's aid, timid Mr. Torkelson went to the head of the family, big, domineering Uncle Chris (Walter Johnson), to ask for Trina's dowry. The resulting scene was highly entertaining. Uncle Chris was the center of another amusing scene in which he taught his nephew, Arne (Richard Despres) to swear, in order to relieve pain.

Uncle Chris's death was one of the high points of the play as well as being very touching. After his death, the family discovers that he had a heart of gold under his frightening exterior.

Perhaps the saddest scene was that in which Dagmar was taken to the hospital. This was one of the few times when Mama's emotions were visible. Her efforts to visit her youngest child were finally rewarded when, posing as a scrubwoman, she gained admittance to her daughter's room.

There was a great deal of work to be done by the crew and it was only through their untiring efforts that the play was so successfully produced.

Class History

As we, the class of 1950, leave Rutland High School, we are taking with us into life fond memories of the wonderful years that lie behind us. We shall never be able to relive those four years, years which have proved priceless in the enriching experiences they have afforded us.

It seems only a short time ago that we were initiated into Rutland High at the first assembly in 1946. The upperclassmen, the faculty, and Mr. Guild, our newly-appointed principal, welcomed us cordially to the halls of R. H. S.

At the annual Freshman Reception we were officially initiated into high school by the seniors. We survived their mockery and ridicule and enjoyed the "Moonlight in Vermont" dance. Jim Guild and Jean Shortsleeves were picked as king and queen of the Reception. Larry Casey, Lorraine Bleickhardt, Paul Stevens, and Anne Preston were responsible for the misery and humiliation we received.

Jim Guild was elected president for our first year, with Bill Smith vice president and Cynthia Sullivan secretary-treasurer.

"Squeek" Squires, Bill Battles, Roy Donahue, and Bob Horton put their musical talent to work for the R. H. S. band that year. Mary Jeffords was elected president of the Junior Mimes Club, and Cynthia Sullivan was selected from the class of '50 as a majorette.

Our class contributed five boys to the jay-vee basketball squad: Bob Perkins, "Squeek" Squires, Bob Sharrow, Ed Warner, and Jim Guild.

Jean Shortsleeves, Evelyn Gleason, Peggy Gilbert, Mary Bradder, and Susanne Davis did a good job cheering at all the games and, at the end of the season, Jean and Peggy were selected as varsity cheerleaders for the next three years.

Lindley Squires and Bill Battles were the only freshmen to win their ski letters.

Most of us will never forget the varsity basketball team of '47 which won the state championship for Rutland for the first time in several years.

Much to our disappointment, our freshman team lost to M. S. J. in both the Rutland Frosh-Soph tourney and the West Rutland tournament.

Bob Sharrow and Jim Guild made the varsity squad and won their letters in baseball.

With a year of experience behind us we were quite confident concerning our sophomore year.

Our second year found Jim Guild again at the helm, with Mary Jeffords as vice president and Alice Chellis secretary-treasurer.

Our Sophomore Hop, "The Greatest Little Show on Earth," was a huge success. Lindley Squires, chairman, was an able executive of this important second-year affair. Aiding him in making it the success that it was were Peg Gilbert, Martha Edson, Sue Davis, Bob Perkins, Nancy Buchheim, and Sherman Hunt.

It was in 1947 that the first steps toward the organization of Teen Town were taken. Mary Jeffords was instrumental in bringing to the attention of the students and the community the need of organized recreation for teenagers. Through her efforts Rutland's Teen Center was begun and has developed into one of the most popular gathering places for Rutland's high school students.

The jay-vee basketball team with Bob Sharrow, Bob Perkins, Fritz Richmond, Ed Warner, Carleton Clifford, Walt Johnson, and Jim Guild, from the class of 1950, had a very successful year. By the end of the season Bob Sharrow, Bob Perkins, and Jim Guild were on the varsity squad.

Lorraine Bellamy, Mary Bradder, and Allison Lane were chosen from the class as majorettes for the school band.

One of the outstanding events of our sophomore year was the achievement of our classmate, Andrea Mead, in winning a berth on the United States Olympic Ski team competing in Switzerland.

Fritz Richmond, Bob Sharrow, and Jim Guild won baseball letters that year.

Susanne Davis and Nancy Buchheim were appointed associate editors of the Red and White and Mary Anna Bugbee was elected assistant manager of the business board at the close of our second year.

Marilyn Jillson, Fritz Richmond, and Alice Chellis directed our activities for our junior year.

Rutland had a very good season in football in 1948, and our boys brought home both the state and city championships. Lettermen who represented the class of 1950 were Walt Johnson, Carl Clifford, "Butch" Fuller, Don McFarren, and Jim Guild. Jim was elected all-state captain and also captain of the '49 squad.

Bob Sharrow, Bob Perkins, Jim Guild and Fritz Richmond, along with the rest of Coach Keefe's hoopsters, set another record and won the Southern Vermont Tourney for the first time in twenty-three years.

The ski team refused to be outdone, and so they returned from the State Meet as runners-up.

Chairman Sue Davis directed the preparations for our Junior Prom and with the aid of "Squeek" Squire's Sentimentalists," transported us into the enchanting setting—Chinatown.

Walt Johnson was one of the mainstays of our championship track team in our junior year.

In our junior year we elected a "ring committee" to determine the style of our class rings. On this committee were Roy Donohue, Marilyn Jillson, Bob Perkins, Susanne Davis, Oralia Garcia, Bob Sharrow, Peggy Westburg, Sherman Hunt, and Pat Mauer.

The members of the band will always remember their trips to the music festivals at Burlington and Old Orchard, Maine that year. Talented Jackie Daley returned from the former with a music scholarship.

Undoubtedly Barbara Adams, Nancy Buchheim, Sue Davis, Jim Guild, and Bob Perkins experienced the most thrilling moment of their junior year when they were elected to the National Honor Society early in the spring.

Shortly afterward, Lindley Squires was elected president of the Student Council for the coming year.

And we will never forget the day we learned that Sue Davis had won her scholarship to the University of Chicago.

Then came that exciting assembly when twenty-six of us received the red and white armband of the Monitor Squad. Beverly Gould was elected chief monitor.

Shortly after school closed for summer vacation of 1949, Betsy Smith, Mary Jeffords, Susanne Davis, Dorothy Martell, Barbara Adams, and Nancy Buchheim attended Girls' State, while at Boys' State were Bob Sharrow, Bob Perkins, Dick Hudson, Lindley Squires, Bill Battles, and Jim Guild. Again R. H. S. was honored when Jim was elected governor.

Our senior year activities were directed by Bob Perkins, president; Bill Battles, vice president; Jean Shortsleeves, secretary; and Alice Chellis, treasurer.

Now that we were seniors, many of us took over important offices. Nancy Buchheim continued as Editor-in-Chief of the Red and White, while Olivene Seward, Pat Mauer, Cynthia Taylor, Mary Anna Bugbee, Agnes Bizdikian, and Martha Edson filled other important positions.

Mary Bradder was selected Drum Majorette, and Lorraine Bellamy became head twirler.

Early in September, we, the senior class, under the chairmanship of Jim Guild, formally welcomed the class of '53 as they sought the clue to the "Pirate's Mystery."

The Gridiron season brought all of our lettermen back to the field, along with four new members—Bob Perkins, Bill Smith, Bill Battles, and "Mickey" Jenney. The Raiders went undefeated in state competition until they met their city rivals into whose hands they dropped the state championship.

Then came those long and tedious weeks of toil for many of the seniors, but it was not in vain, for on December 1 and 2, the class of '50 staged the unforgettable, "I Remember Mama." The main players were Nancy Buchheim, Jean Stevens, Walt Johnson, Jean McGinley, and Martha Edson. There were many other seniors who took part in making it a success.

We were all very glad when Mary Jeffords was chosen D. A. R. Good Citizenship Girl from our class.

The Talisman Editorial Board began plans early in December for recording our high school life. Pat Mauer was elected Editor-in-Chief of the '50 Talisman.

The Business Board managed by Agnes Bizdikian worked very hard in order that our yearbook might be published.

The Southern Vermont Basketball Tournament saw Rutland upset Brattleboro 41-33, and then lose to M. S. J. in the finals in a heartbreaking game 34-31. Rutland's season record was very mediocre but the Raider's spirited tourney play brightened an otherwise lack-luster season. Bob Sharrow, Bob Perkins, Fritz Richmond, and Jim Guild represented the class of 1950. "Perk" and Jim also made the All-Tournament Team.

Now that we are about to leave R. H. S., we must close the memory-book of our high school career. We may no longer add to it, nor take from it. It has been written in our hearts and there it shall always remain.

JAMES GUILD,
GLADYS BERRY,
Class Historians.

Class Prophecy

Ah, What have we here? It looks like a fair treasure chest, marked "Rutland High School, Class of 1950." The class of 1950, why that was our class! My! Forty years ago. Let's open it to see what it holds. Look! There are books, magazines, and papers, old *Rutland Herald*s. Let's read a few to see what we can find.

News has just been received here that Mary Anna Bugbee's football team (made up of her ten sons and the coach, her husband) has had an undefeated season. Credit for this success should be given Jack "Army" Armstrong for his unusual ability as manager of the team.

Shirley Shappy has just been voted one of the best-dressed women in the world. Much of this credit should be given Cynthia Taylor for her outstanding selection and designing of Shirley's clothes.

Congratulations to Peggy Gilbert for being unanimously voted "Miss Rheingold of 1955." Peggy surely perked right along.

Jean Stevens's name can now be seen on one of Broadway's most famous and elaborate theater marquees for her outstanding performance in "I Remember Miss St. Clair."

Jane Sabourin and Wilma Ward have just announced the opening of their Beauty Parlor. Jane designs the hair-dos, while "Willie" does the trimming.

Something new has been added to Rutland High. Room 103 now echoes with the voice of Pat Kinsman. Room 101 is occupied by Bob Warner, and Mona Orcutt can be seen busily at work in Room 1.

If you have had woman or man trouble, Pat Mauer is the person to see. She can be found at the "Mauer and Sharrow Social Service Board." Pat finally convinces you that all your trouble is caused by bad teeth. Therefore, she turns you over to Bob, who then pulls.

A large crowd was gathered last week at New London, Connecticut, to witness the arrival of the first submarine commanded by Captain Marie LaPlant and "manned" entirely by Waves.

Here is some news announcing that the Knights of the Golden Slippers are going to have their New England Convention in Rutland, Vermont, due to the outstanding work of the new Chamber of Commerce secretary, Joyce Ridlon.

Ernest Priest, Chief of Detectives for Scotland Yard, recently made a name for himself by solving the "Lost Canary Case."

Bill Hack, employed by the Chrysler Corporation, has invented a new fly-in-the-air-upside-down-underwater-racer. Wayne Osgood will be the test pilot.

Bob Perkins, now with Minneapolis Lakers, is having a tough time with amnesia. He gets into awful spells where he keeps singing "You Can't Be True, Dear." Keep pegging, Perk.

Connie Clark has just returned from a tour of the world. She was always known to be able to "get around."

"Mick" Jenney, ace sports writer for the Pittsford Gazette, has handed his resignation to the editor. "My reason for this move," said "Mick," "I have a better offer as scrub manager with the Brandon Bisons, internationally famous team."

Jim Guild, retired All-American Quarterback, is doing well on his new farm in Alaska. His main crop—you guessed it—PEACHES.

Carleton Clifford, Professor of Microby, just returned from Kwawfjh where he was trying to capture the wild Zulu bird. His assistants, Dick Despres and Ron Blackwood, stayed there to set up an ear-muff business.

Martha Edson, candidate for President on the Making-Out Ticket, has been sued for disturbing the peace. Her attorney, Bill Smith, says he will take it as far as Arthur Godfrey. I believe he will.

Bill Battles and "Squeak" Squires, are doing very well with their new night club-ski resort in Sun Valley. No one seems to know where they got the name "Lost Week-end Lodge." Gareth Wetherell, famous singing star, will be the feature of the floor show. Head man and bouncer is Earl Mayo, ex-heavyweight wrestler.

Arnold Skottet, famous Esquire artist, is traveling around the world painting the women in each country to see if there's a difference. His body-guard, Dick Carroll, holds the easel.

Lorraine "Bubbles" Bellamy, famous entertainer, has written a book "The Good and Bad of Going Steady." Her publisher, Marilyn Jillson, says it will be a best seller among teen-agers.

Word has been received from Southern Chile that Bev Olson is setting up a painting school, for one-eyed monkeys. Her assistants are Jackie Morgan and Jean Shortsleeves.

If you have happened to miss Landon's Hardware Store, it is now under a new name, Manney's Hardware. Yes, John worked right up to the top. Edward Cheney has been promoted to head clerk in the store.

Sad news here. Barbara Adams has just been sued for libel, for insulting the United States, in saying that all of its industries will have a relapse by 1980.

The Rutland Free Library will not have any more difficulty in hiring a head librarian now that Shirley Cota has been given the job.

"Sharp Shooter" Rachel Homeister, has just been given a contract by the State Farm Bureau to pick off crows.

No more worries or headaches for the Rutland Hospital, now that Jean McGinley is Superintendent of Nurses. Doris White (the lucky nurse) has full charge of the new addition, the Veterans' Ward, and Mary Humphreys is head of the Children's Ward. Beverly Bruce has full charge of the practical nurses.

Bob Brown and Charles Taylor have just been named the "Best Farmers of Vermont"; Bob as the "Top Maple Sugar Farmer," while Charles recently won the Moody Trophy.

Poor Marjory Doty is still waiting at the Brooklyn Navy Yard wondering when that SHIP will get in.

Laura Lear still seems to be making out all right in the RUPPERT Beer Business.

Jean Jasmin has settled down for many days of hard work as a farmer's wife in Chippenhook.

Albert Geno, recently elected president of the Blue Sunoco Oil Company, has just returned from a business trip to Iran. Dick LaCroix and Bill Nichols, his two professional well-diggers, went along for the practice.

News has been received here that Nancy Buchheim has been making out very well!—in her acting. She's recently starred in "The Pharmacist's Wife."

Beverly Ewing made the headlines by being the first person to reach Mars. "The reason for this sudden change," said Bev, "is that I shall now have more space to drive on."

The biggest purchase in Rutland's history has just gone down in the records. Massie Mehl has bought Merchants' Row, where he plans to build the largest delicatessen store in the state. Agnes Bizdikian will occupy half of this block, due to the growth of her father's business.

Class Prophets.

Class Will

Before we depart from the portals of Rutland High, we pause to make known our bequeathed treasures in this Last Will and Testament of the graduating class of 1950.

AUDREY ACKLEY, a marksman, wills her sight to any boy who desires to look over the stock—of a gun, that is.

DORIS BAIRD leaves her last name behind, as brother Leslie will still be around.

WAYNE THOMPSON leaves in a car. He'll need the ability he learned in auto mechanics.

ELIZABETH and LYNDALE Cady leave together, just as they came.

CHARLIE BROTHERS leaves his remarkable attendance record. I tried it just once—got caught.

JOAN COLLETTE leaves giggling. After all, why should she change over-night?

ROBERT FULLER leaves—wondering what he left behind.

VIRGINIA HERRICK leaves in a hurry, as usual.

DAVE MELEN wills some of his personality. Whoever gets it will be envied. Put some money in the pot, boy.

ALLISON leaves, with the "Fuller" brush man Bobbing after her.

PATRICIA ROUSSEAU wills her quietness to some of Les Femmes in next year's junior class—L. G., B. M., C. F., etc.

DONALD MCFARREN wills some of his energy to those poor unfortunates who couldn't make it in four years.

REBA leaves the Cook book with which she kept the band members stewed up on the bus trips.

GARY ARTHUR wills some of his cooperativeness to Stalin. Hope he uses it.

CLIFFORD WISELL leaves with many a word unsaid.

WILLARD TAYLOR gives his Monitor's armband to the—Smiling Monitor of 1951.

EDWARD WARNER wills his Reo to the school, only because he couldn't sell it.

GERALDINE WHEELER leaves us guessing—quite mysterious, that gal.

BALCH ADAMS leaves nothing. He abides by the Boy Scout motto—"Always Be Prepared."

ROBERT STEELE wills his writing ability to next year's seniors. They'll need it in English.

RICHARD HUDSON wills his position on the stage crew to "Crowfoot."

KENNETH KIBBEY wills his seat in detention to anyone who has trouble getting up in the morning.

ANNETTE SHARON wills her male list to the Freshmen Girls—We understand they need it. Yuk! Yuk!

WALTER JOHNSON, alias "Uncle Chris," reluctantly leaves the last drop from his flask to any junior fellow who feels that he can hold it.

CYNTHIA SULLIVAN surrenders her reign as "Queen Olive" to some green freshman who desires to be in a constant pickle.

ALFRED GHIO wills his subscription of "The Atlantic" to any prospective navy man—"Believe me," says Al. "It'll make you feel all-at-sea."

MAURICE BREWSTER leaves his title as the "R. H. S. HIGH JUMPING CHAMPION." Although at times his classmates were feeling mighty low, Maurice always managed to be up in the air over something.

DICK WARD leaves still demanding the $16.00 which he paid for his class ring. "Twas a gyp," moans Dick, "No carrots came with mine."

BEA SOULIA and DOT MARTELL offer a contribution to the fund to buy rope for those unskilled in the art of skipping school.

FRITZ RICHMOND leaves his unique French accent. In other words—he leaves nothing!

PEGGY WESTBURG bequeathes a precious volume from her "History of Mickey the White Mouse" to anyone who enjoys a real honest-to-goodness thriller.

JACKIE DALEY grants her licorice stick to anyone with a sweet tooth capable of overcoming its sour notes.

SHIRLEY SCHOFIELD and ROBERTA PRIOR leave their colorful tresses to keep the flame of school spirit burning bright.

BEV GOULD bequeathes her traffic whistle to the incoming Monitor Chief as it "comes in pretty handy when you want to blow your carrot top."

DON DEFORGE reluctantly bids farewell to his most reliable standby "To be great is to be misunderstood," from his famous Believe It or Not by Gosh.

ROY DONAHUE and "MICKEY" WHITE proudly leave copies of their most prized possession. Roy's is "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair," "Mickey's" bears the title "Peg O' My Heart."

OLIVENE (tall, dark, and deadline-Thursday-night-or-else) SEWARD grants her famous fudge recipe to that up and coming housewife, George Hansen.

JOYCE leaves this cheery advice so that no one will FREDETTE her—"Never feel down-hearted for you always have something to count on—your fingers."

DOLORES CHAMPINE bequeathes her friendly personality to the junior class so they can extend as cordial a welcome to next year's freshmen as the "'50 Pirates" did this year.

MARY JEFFORDS leaves behind the record of being the first student in the history of Rutland High to graduate with a B.S. degree. Believe me, that Baby Sitting surely pays off!

MARILYN TROP of the newly formed Girls' Bowling Club bequeathes a long-sought-after solution for calming study hall: "Install an alley because it would be so quiet you could hear a pin drop!"

DONALD CHENEY leaves tales of the tails of his pet mice "Eenie," "Meanie," "Miney," and "Mo." However, at present he is undecided whether they should grace the library or the chemistry lab!

PAT SHAPPY, GEORGIA MOUSTAKIS, PAT CHILOS, and ALICE CHELLIS, alias "The Four Horsemen"—each leave their contribution to the typical costume of the class of '50 which includes garden coats (pea jackets) sorrowful slacks (blue jeans), and non-workers (loafers).

JEAN LeCLAIR wills her bee-u-ti-ful eyes to some lucky actress. Incidentally, they're the only pair of eyes in the class that have had the chance to make an undertaker turn white.

ELEANOR DAVIS grants this advice to all those of study hall fame: "Doing nothing is the most tiresome job in the world because you can't stop and rest."

ORALIA GARCIA leaves the North to go back to Texas and some good ole Southern comfort. What's his name, Oralia?

JANE STRATTON reluctantly bids farewell to her title of "most popular (and sole) girl" in the co-op selling class as we REGON she's already spoken for.

AUDREY STOODLEY, ELIZABETH GILMAN, and MARJORIE SODERGREN leave behind the trials and tribulations in the warning "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." No sir, no more kid stuff for them; they're going into office work now.

Having caused our signatures to be affixed to this Last Will and Testament, in witness thereof, on this fifteenth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty, GLADYS now leaves to BERRY it in the immortal locker of Davy Jones. May it be preserved forever.

President
LINDLEY S. SQUIRES

NEW CONSTITUTION AND INSPECTION RULES EFFECTED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

Lindley Squires was chosen at a general election to serve as president of this year's Student Council. Taking effect with Lindley's term as president was the new constitution, adopted and ratified last year. This limited membership on the council to the sixteen home room presidents and the council officers.

During the busy year the president, Lindley Squires, and the faculty adviser, Mr. Howard W. Douglas, attended a conference of Student Government organizations in Burlington. Round table discussions were held to better equip the delegates in the solving of problems of such groups.

This year's council succeeded in remodeling the inspection rules. Scholarship no longer is counted in home room standings. Credit is still given for participation in school drives.

A magazine drive was also conducted to raise funds for several needy projects. Two teams—the Tortoise and the Hare, waged a battle to secure magazine subscriptions.

After the Southern Vermont Rotary Tournament was held, the Rutland Council was instrumental in formulating plans to appeal for better student seating at future affairs. To secure the cooperation of the Rotary Club will be the next step in the "Better Seats for Students" campaign.

"COUNTRY STYLE" RAISES MONEY FOR EXCHANGE STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

The International Relations Club, under the supervision of Miss Carolyn Lee Allen, had a membership of approximately twenty-five students who sought to familiarize themselves with the problems of the world today.

The club was under the leadership of President, Barbara Adams; Vice President, Gladys Berry; Treasurer, Oralia Garcia; Recording Secretary, Dolores Champine; Corresponding Secretary, Patricia Kinsman; and Program Chairmen, Jean Stevens and Warren Carlisle.

The members took part in a drive to sell Vermont Forum tickets, and acted as ushers at the Forum; drew up a permanent constitution for the club; sponsored a school-wide drive for books and other literature to be sent to foreign countries; made bulletin-board and Library displays for United Nations Day and other special occasions; bought pamphlets for the library; and visited the classes for Displaced Persons held at the Rutland Free Library, some of the members volunteering as assistant teachers.

They also attended a meeting of the Rutland Board of Aldermen, and planned to end the year by distributing a pamphlet telling of their activities such as: the I. R. C. Exchange-Student Fund, scholarships to Shawnee, and the Travel Fund. Nearly every member has a foreign pen-pal, and the club sponsored a drive to interest other groups throughout the city in the "International Friendship League" of Boston.

To finance these various projects the members presented a Talent Show under the direction of Joyce Fredette on March 17. Shirley Schofield and her committee staged "Country Style," a square dance, in April. Members also sold candy, pop, pennants, and other novelties at the school games.

The programs of the club were varied, including reports and book reviews by the members, and such guest speakers as the Rev. G. Lewis Porter, Captain Gerald Brackett, Rabbi Jacob Handler, Warren Bergstrom, Patricia Brackett, and Donald Evans.

THE RED AND WHITE

LUX ET VERITAS

NANCY BUCHHEIM CONTINUES AS EDITOR-IN CHIEF

Nancy Buchheim served as editor-in-chief for the 1950 Red and White with Olivene Seward as senior associate editor. The junior associate editor, and editor-in-chief for 1951, was Robert Crawford. Seniors, Miles Jenny, Patricia Mauer, and Cynthia Taylor, filled the posts of sports editor, news editor, and feature editor, respectively.

New positions of assistant editors were created before the choosing of the new staff. Other changes were also made, primarily to encourage competition for advancement.

The Red and White had a budget of about $1,200, of which approximately $900 was collected from ads, by the business board headed by Mary Anna Bugbee. The circulation department directed by Agnes Bizdikian handled subscriptions amounting to $300.

In the National Scholastic Press Association judging the paper received a rating of First Class Excellent. As a finale to their year's work, the staff held a banquet at the Wheeler Williams Inn which Charles Carleton, past editor of the U. V. M. Cynic as speaker.

With the ideal of striving for the betterment of R. H. S., Mimes, under the direction of Mrs. L. Mabel Morrill, organized for the 1949-50 year early in September. This year's project has been the purchase of a number of dimmers for the stage lighting system. Towards this goal, Mimes presented several plays in assemblies, including the melodrama, "Wedded, but No Wife," and "Land of Heart's Desire" which was also entered in the district play contest.

This year's program, under the chairmanship of Margaret Westburg, was aimed towards acquainting the members with events in the drama world. The club was divided into different discussion groups; each was assigned various aspects of theatre life and planning. Workshops, held on alternate Wednesdays, enabled the members to experiment with stage make-up and discuss its significance and use on the stage.

Another important part of Mimes is the stage crew. This year, under the leadership of James Phillips, the crew managed many school and community productions.

The officers were Mary Jeffords, president; Margaret Gilbert, vice president; Warren Carlisle, secretary; and James Phillips, treasurer.

Freshman Are Introduced To Stage-Craft

Junior Mimes, as in past years, worked towards educating its members in the history of the theatre and preparing them for future dramatic work in Mimes. This year, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Greene, and assisted by Mimes Club, Junior Mimes presented in assembly "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Down. Two members from Junior Mimes, Bonnie Phillips and Constance Dailey, participated in the cast; while two others, Jane Herrick and Eleanora Burke, gained valuable experience back-stage.

The club elected Gayle Bancroft as president, and Roberta Bantis as secretary.

Perhaps the most informal spot in R. H. S. is Room 1, the meeting place of the Art Club. Under the direction of Miss Lucy Doane, the members banded together to provide an opportunity for self-expression. Working with all sorts of implements and materials, these talented students developed interests in several phases of art.

Late last year an Art Assembly acquainted the student body with the recreational, occupational, and educational facilities provided by the Club. The enthusiastic response this year to the call for membership reflected its far-reaching results.

The organization of the club in an informal manner helped to preserve its goal of individual accomplishment and development. Eleanor Davis, Beverly Olson, and Marilyn Jillson served during the year as club chairmen; while Beatrice Soulia and Jane Sabourin were secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Literature Occupies Students' Free Time

One of the new organizations in Rutland High School is the Library Council. The purpose of the group is to stimulate interest in the library and participation in its work. It is composed of one member from each English class. Its officers this year were:

Chairman DOLORES CHAMPINE

Business Manager LORRAINE BELLAMY

During National Book Week, the Council placed on display in the library a group of the new books which they had purchased with money accumulated from fines. Their selections included seven biographies, seven books of fiction, and one classified as useful arts.

As part of Book Week celebration, the Library Council sponsored an essay contest, using the theme, "The Best Book That I Have Ever Read." Prizes were awarded to Patricia Shappy '50 and Thomson Fagan '48, a post-graduate student. They received certificates of five and three dollars respectively, redeemable for books of their own choice at the Hartford Book Shop.

Climaxing Book Week, the group conducted an assembly under the chairmanship of Joyce Fredette who introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Carl W. Hull, Director of the Rutland Free Library.

1st row: Dolores Champine, June Parker, Carlene Johnson, Carolyn Ackley, Joyce Fredette, Roberta Bantis, Mary Ann King.

Music! Music! Music!

RUTLAND PLAYS HOST TO NEW ENGLAND MUSIC FESTIVAL

Music was very much in the foreground at Rutland High School and in Rutland this year. Besides the presence of two excellent organizations, the Concert Band and Mixed Chorus created by Mr. George Low, Director of Music, Rutland was the scene of the band and orchestral sections of the New England Music Festival on May 19th and 20th sponsored by the local Lions Club.

Bands and orchestras from all over New England invaded Rutland on May 19th and 20th. The auditions and adjudications were held at the armory, high school auditorium, Meldon auditorium, and other halls in the city. The parade including all bands was held in the afternoon followed by marching maneuvers.

The Mixed Chorus of Rutland High School was a very spirited organization this year. Under the direction of Mr. George H. Low, forty-four students presented three concerts and made several other public appearances. Miss Audrey Perkins '47 accompanied the group throughout the year.

The usual Christmas assembly was presented at which a chorus of seventy voices sang the Fred Waring arrangement of the beloved "Twas the Night Before Christmas" winning much student acclaim for that number as well as for other hymns and selections. A modified form of this program was presented for the Dana P. T. A.

Sharing the spot-light with the band, the chorus participated in the three concerts of the year. They presented many beautiful Fred Waring selections including "Deep River" and "Holiday" as well as the well-liked novelty numbers, "Simon, the Fisherman" and "Comin' Through the Rye."

The chorus sang at the Kiwanis' benefit show, at the Methodist Church, and at the Community Club.

On May 6th the group went to the Vermont Music Festival at Burlington. May 27th, the group traveled to Hamden, Connecticut, where they were given a rating in the choral section of the New England Music Festival.

The Rutland High School Concert Band had a very rewarding and busy year. Forty-seven students have participated in it as well as seven majorettes and drum major, Mary Bradder. Lindley Squires was student director while Donald LaBrake served as assistant student director. Librarians were Richard Kaeller and John Hartigan.

During the fall the Marching Band contributed to all home football games. Elaborate shows similar to those of college organizations were planned and presented before the game and at half-time.

The band participated in its usual way in community affairs including the Memorial Day parade here and at Crown Point, New York. It played at a bazaar at the armory sponsored by the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, at a talent show for underprivileged children directed by the Kiwanis Club, and at the Community Club.

The Concert Band presented three formal concerts during the year. At the first one on March 10th, outstanding selections were played including Grundman's "Walking Tune." A special and unusual feature was presented for an overture was read at sight before an audience to demonstrate what takes place at a "Sight-Reading Audition." It was the first time that this has ever been done in Vermont. Another concert was held April 19th and 20th featuring two student conductors, a cornet trio, and a clarinet solo with band accompaniment.

The band went to the Vermont Music Festival on May 6th where they were seen in their snappy uniforms in the parade and were auditioned and adjudicated for concert performance, sight-reading, and marching technique, and also played in the Friday evening concert, representing the host city at the New England Music Festival at the fairgrounds.

On the preceding night, a series of concerts were presented in various halls by concert bands and orchestras chosen from each of the New England states for their completeness of instrumentation and musical accomplishment. At least two organizations from each state participated in these concerts.

Organized noon-time recreation at R. H. S. has been needed for several years. Under the direction of the faculty advisers, Mr. Henry L. Doll and Miss Mary Bresnehan, this year's Commuters' Club planned and sponsored a variety of programs for lunch hour entertainment.

Permission to use the gym afforded many members an opportunity long awaited. Carole Franzoni conducted activities for the girls. The boys were allowed the use of the gym under the direction of Sidney Izenberg. The ping-pong tournament was directed by Massie Nehl and Bernard Rome. Softball, outdoor basketball, and baseball were played by enthusiastic commuters. Another feature added to noon hour amusements was the music for listening and dancing. Sue Terrill and Earlene LaCoe supervised this. Plans to redecorate the lunch room were also made by Virginia Herrick and her committee.

One hundred and ten students were eligible for all Commuters' Club privileges. Joel Sherburne and Richard Adams sold candy to members.

Coordinating this year's activities were Co-Presidents Walter Johnson and Virginia Herrick. Margaret Gilbert served as vice president, Barbara Adams as secretary, and Earlene LaCoe as treasurer. The four members of the Executive Board also aided in carrying out planned recreation. Sue Terrill, Carole Franzoni, Joel Sherburne, and Sydney Izenberg served in this capacity.

Many girls became interested in the Home Economics Club again this year, and under the supervision of Miss Mary Bresnehan, had a very successful year.

At their first meeting, they elected the following as their leaders:

President	ELEANOR SOULIA
Vice President	CORNELIA HERRICK
Secretary	JOAN COLLETTE
Treasurer	LAURA LEAR

Their main project for the year was making scrap-books for the children's ward at the Rutland Hospital. They also made pins for the Girls' Athletic Association at the beginning of the year. For one of their meetings, they planned a covered-dish supper. They made a trip to the Singer Sewing Machine Center where demonstrations were made for their benefit. They invited a hairdresser to speak to them for another meeting.

Boom, Boom, Boom, Boom! Wha, Who, Wha!

Co-Captains Margaret Gilbert and Jean Shortsleeves led the cheerleading squad through its traditional activities and were responsible for several innovations. Adviser of the group, accompanying them on many bus trips, was Miss Judith Swift.

Juniors, Carlene Johnson and Sue Terrill, and sophomores, Janet Brush, Carole Franzoni, and Earlene Germon, held varsity berths. Janet Duval substituted during the football season for Sue Terrill and filled temporary vacancies for basketball games.

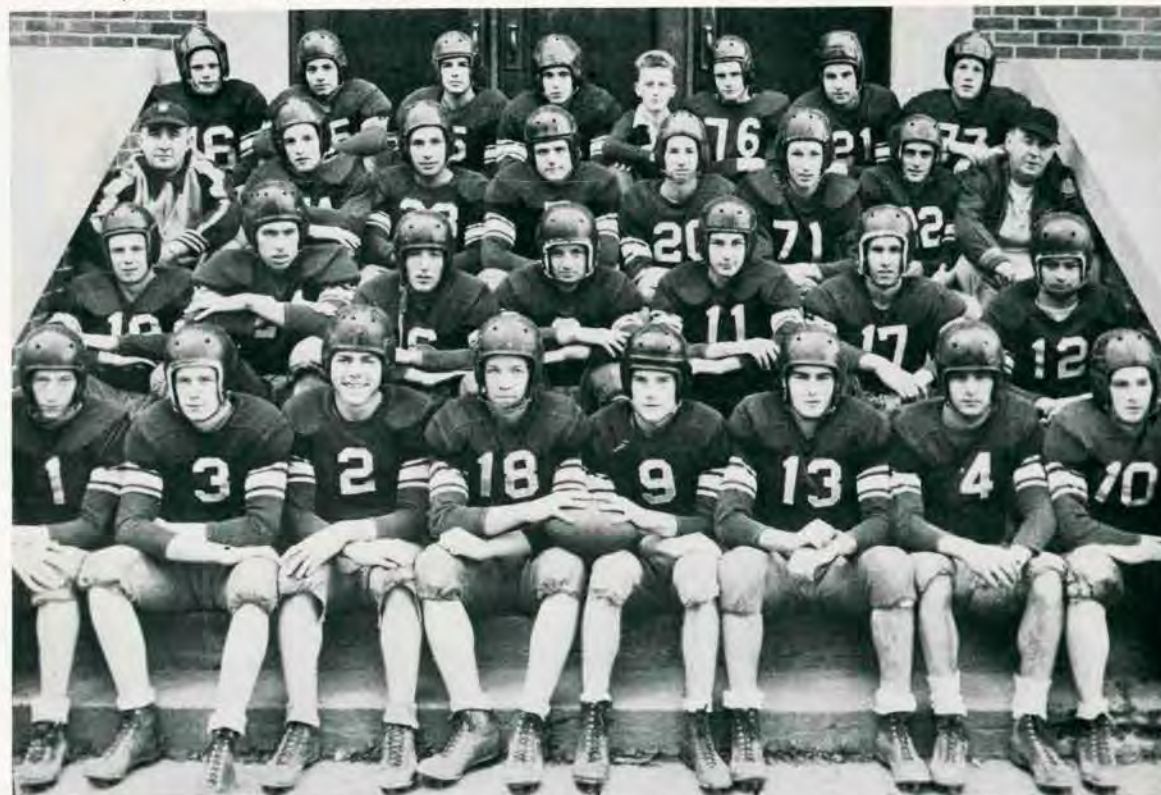

Tryouts for the positions left open this June were held early in December. Many freshman girls flocked to the lower corridor to try to win berths on the junior-varsity, and eventually the varsity. Five aspirants, Barbara Gilbert, Jean Haigh, Mary Roberts, Nancy Russell, and Mary Webber were chosen as jay-vees. They appeared at all the home games and at many out-of-town games in their flaming red skirts and white blouses. At the season's close, Nancy Russell and Mary Webber were selected for varsity duty next fall.

The girls donned new uniforms for the basketball season. Maroon wool jerkins with white stitching and a white felt Indian head applique replaced last year's lettered suspenders. New white blouses with ruffled cuffs and collar contrasted with the maroon slacks and jerkins. To pay for these new uniforms, the girls sponsored several dances after home games.

Susie Gilbert, sister of Captain Peggy, stole the show from the older girls when she appeared as the squad mascot. Wearing an exact duplicate of the varsity uniform, little Susie performed her "Wha Who Wha's" with poise and skill. Janet Brush had to share her selection as "Tournament Queen" with little Susie, who reigned as "Princess."

Raiders Place Two on All-State Team to Climax Season

With four regulars, and five other lettermen returning from the 1948 State Championship team, Coaches Flaitz and Keefe, molded together a gridiron eleven that drove through their first six opponents, before being dumped in the last two arguments, by powerful Pittsfield, Massachusetts High, and by Mount St. Joseph on Armistice Day. Nevertheless, Rutland did finish in the runner-up slot for the state title, during the 1949 campaign.

Under the veteran leadership of Captain Jim Guild, the Raiders left no stones unturned in rolling up those six consecutive triumphs. Guild, at quarterback for his second year, had a hand in practically every scoring play up to, and including, the Brattleboro game, in which he received a slight concussion, and was advised to abandon football. For the remaining three games, tackle Walt Johnson acted as captain of the squad, and did a great job inspiring the boys.

"BUTCH" SWEEPS END

Bennington, the first opponent of the year, pressed Rutland to the limit, holding the Redskins to a 19-13 victory. The backfield play of Guild, Bud McConnell, and Bob Miles overcame an off-day that the line experienced. Guild's run in the second quarter measured 60 yards, and sent Rutland into a tie at halftime.

Guild had a field day the following Saturday, passing to Miles for three touchdowns, scoring one touchdown in person, on an intercepted pass, good for 60 yards, and topping off the day by kicking five extra points, as Rutland romped past Springfield 41-12. Close to 400 yards were gained by the unstoppable Warrior offense.

Good downfield blocking, hard running, and some accurate passing were the deciding factors in the 19-0 rout of Burlington. The bigger Seahorse line was ground into submission, by the Redskins' hard-hitting forward chargers, who opened monstrous gaps in the opponents' defense, enabling McConnell to blast through for a pair of touchdowns. A beauty of a catch by Bobby Perkins on a Guild pass scored the other TD.

Rutland found themselves behind for the first time of the year, the following Saturday at Bellows Falls, but our Braves braved sloppy weather, and ripped the Fallsmen apart with two touchdowns in each of the last two periods, winning 27-7. Huge George Cady realized the lineman's dream as he pounced on a loose ball in the Purple end zone for Rutland's first score. McConnell, "Yogi" Garcia, and Miles all ended up in paydirt, before the afternoon was over.

Brattleboro was the next victim, as our lads swam past the Southerners 19-13, on a quarterback sneak by Guild in the waning minutes of the game, on a field that was a complete quagmire. The most sensational six points of the afternoon, was a 73 yard pass play from Guild to Miles for the Raiders' first tally.

The season's last conquest came against St. Mary's with Rutland scoring at will, racking up a 37-0 decision. Bill Frappier completed the longest run in many a campaign, for RHS, scampering 96 yards to a touchdown near the end of the game.

Although tasting defeat for the initial time against Pittsfield, the Flaitzmen were absolutely brilliant at their defensive game, as "Butch" Fuller, Walt Johnson, and Lee Wilson set the opposition back for sizable losses. The final score in this one read 20-0. Garcia, a 125 pound freshman sensation, was the best Rutland player on the field during the RHS-MSJ clash, as he turned in stellar work, running and tackling, but even this wasn't enough, for the Academy power pushed Rutland around by a 20-0 tune.

Two Rutland High School men received the honor of being placed on the All-State first team. Jim Guild was the quarterback, while Walt Johnson, ordinarily a tackle, was nominated to a guard post. "Butch" Fuller, "Yogi" Garcia, "Bud" McConnell, Bob Miles, and Carleton Clifford were given honorable mention.

There were many individual reasons for the success of the Raiders during the past term. Johnson, Fuller, Don McFarren, Lee Wilson, Bill Battles, "Sandy" Guynup, and Joe Roberts all turned in fine performances, both defensively and offensively, on the line. In the backfield, Guild, Miles, McConnell, Garcia, Frappier, "Joe" Dolan, and Bob Perkins did their part. Perkins played end for a good portion of the season, but shared the QB duties with Dolan in the last three scraps.

In the individual scoring race, Miles hung up 54 points, while McConnell closely contested with 48, and Guild scored 28 during the year. A look into the records shows that Guild built up an amazing record at Rutland, but in his senior year alone, besides tallying with 28 points, Jim passed for five others, completed better than fifty per cent of his tosses, kicked 10 out of 18 placements, averaged 40 yards per punt while being a real field general from his quarterback slot.

Of the 22 lettermen, 13 will return next fall, with Guild, Johnson, Clifford, Fuller, McFarren, Perkins, Battles, Smith, and Jenney graduating. For 1950 Rutland can count on such ball carriers as Captain-elect Miles, McConnell, Frappier, Dolan, Baird, Howland, and Garcia, while the work horses of the team (the linemen), will be Wilson, Mack, Izenberg, Roberts, Cady, and Guynup.

IT'S COMING IN FOR A TOUCHDOWN

Raider Hoopsters Turn in Surprise Journey Performance

Seated: Robert Perkins, Robert Sharrow, James Guild, Richard Grace, Robert McConnell.
Mascot: "Bundie" Keefe.

Rutland High School's 1949-'50 hoop squad was potentially a great ball club. Although the boys did lose more games than a Keefe-coached contingent had ever done in the eight years our coach Keefe has been at the helm, the Redskins had as good an offensive club as has been fielded by the high school in many winters.

Their season's slate showed 14 victories out of a possible 24, but the team nevertheless made a finer showing in the Southern Vermont Tournament, than teams of past years had done with better records.

COACH LEO F. KEEFE

Rutland played brilliant and spectacular basketball upon occasion, as in both Whitehall, N. Y. encounters, when the Red Raiders racked up 119 counters for the two games. Both Bellows Falls engagements were well played, as was an early-season clash with Spaulding High, which Rutland won 45-38.

During the Southern Vermont League schedule R. H. S. was victorious nine times, but tasted defeat on seven separate evenings. This was only good enough for fifth position in the nine team loop.

Playing their characteristic possession-type ball, as has been played at Rutland for some time, the Warriors waited for their openings before taking shots, and thus turned out to be as good an offensive machine as has ever represented the school. Sporting a 41 plus average per game, Rutland's artillery pounded in over 995 tallies during the season, and on only three occasions were they held to less than 30 points.

Robert Perkins, James Guild, Thomas Lovett, MSJ; Peter Feridoni, Brattleboro; John Hurley, MSJ; Patrick Levins, MSJ.

Making this offensive punch possible were a number of boys, of which none were really standout scorers. Bob Perkins led the way with 233 tallies; Co-Captain Bob Sharrow hit with 195 to be the runner-up for the second consecutive campaign. Tricky Dick Grace, who will be back next year, hooked in 165, while Co-Captain Jim Guild's rejuvenated step-shots were good for 125 markers. "Booner" Bernardo, only a sophomore, gave an indication of good things to come in seasons ahead, splitting the twines for 97.

Rutland's goal defenders weren't the most amazing of the half-century, for the opponents drifted through the Raider barriers to the tune of 878 points. However, the guards couldn't be blamed for all of the destruction, as such backcourt operators as Guild, "Joe" Dolan, and "Bud" McConnell turned in commendable performances throughout the duration of the long season.

Entering the Southern Vermont Tournament, Rutland was figured to be knocked off by Brattleboro in easy fashion, but the Red and White upset the dope, with a shining 41 to 33 triumph over the Bratts. Rutland went on to the championship Mount St. Joseph scrape, again the underdog, but built up a seven-point halftime advantage, and an 11 marker cushion midway through the third canto, but failed to keep up the torrid pace, as the Saints came back to take a 34-31 decision in a whirlwind finish.

Guild made the All-Tournament Class "A" team for the second time, while Perkins entered the select group this year. Sharrow, who failed to repeat this year, was co-captain in the '49 affair.

Sharrow concluded three seasons of varsity play, and set himself up as one of Rutland's all-time high scorers, with a total of 551 points. Bob also set somewhat of an attendance record, appearing in 66 contests.

Perkins, who started in 49 consecutive games, tallied 404 points during his varsity career, and was the ninth best scorer in the League this year.

Guild had but 236 markers to his credit, but set up some 150 buckets in approximately 55 battles over three years. This figures out to be a grand accumulation of 1,191 tallies for the three graduating athletes.

Coach Keefe has plenty to look forward to as he commences the next fifty years of R. H. S. basketball, as such operators as Grace, Dolan, McConnell, Bernardo, and a host of successful J. V. cagers will be promoted to varsity ranks for the 1950-'51 season.

Excellent Record Compiled by Junior Varsity

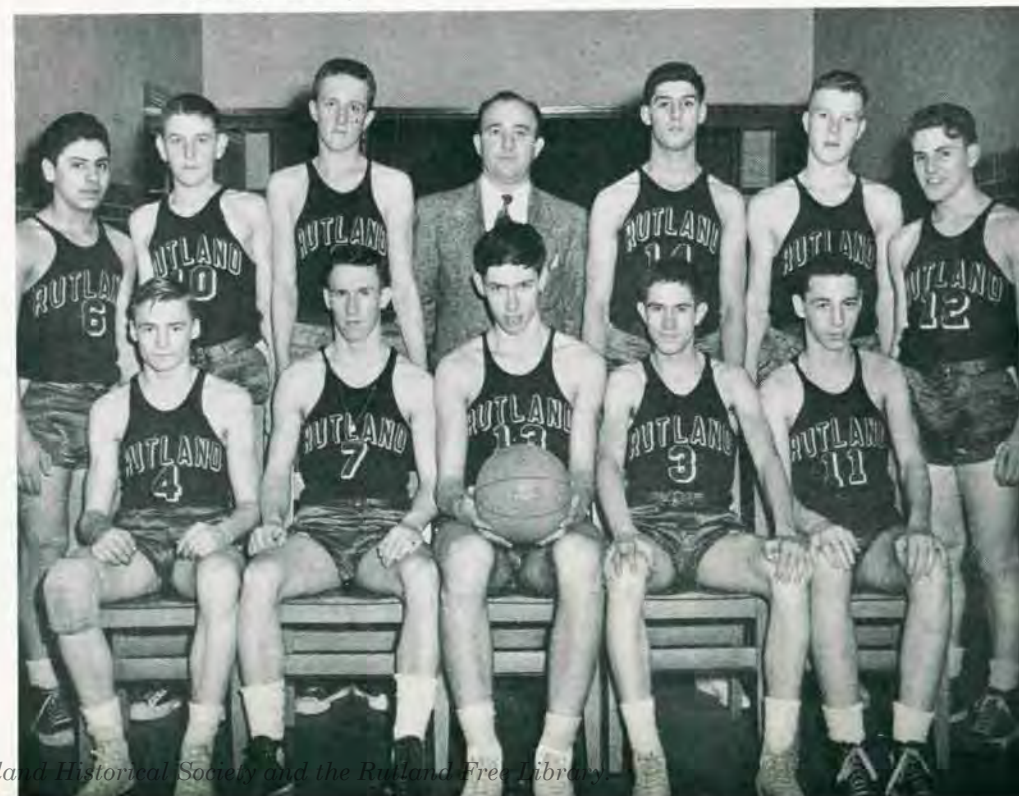

Enjoying a tremendously prosperous campaign, Coach Flaitz and his little Warriors blasted their first twelve opponents, and went on to compile a splendid record of eighteen victories against three setbacks.

George Greene, Malcolm Guild, Bill Goldman, "Yogi" Garcia, and "Sandy" Guynup were the most noteworthy cagers. Greene was high scorer with 189 tallies, followed by Guynup with 137, Goldman 117, and Guild 99.

Rutland JV's proved that they are an offensive club as well as a good defensive one. Their average was 43.3 per game in the point production department, and a low 24.5 average on defense.

Seated: Malcolm Guild, William Frappier, George Cady, George Greene, William Goldman.

Standing: Olaf Garcia, Russell Shappy, Nelson Baldwin, Lloyd Flaitz, Coach; Joseph Roberts, William Farwell, James Grady.

Malcolm Guild, James Jeffords, Richard Greene, Bernard Fitzsimmons, William Farwell, Sanford Guynup, George Hansen.

Basketball Coach Leo Keefe ran off the annual Home Room Tournament during the latter part of November, and ironically enough his own room, 113, walked off with the championship. The sophomores had such outstanding members as Dick Grace, Malcolm Guild, Bernie Fitzsimmons, and "Sandy" Guynup, who proved to be too much for the runner-up seniors of Room 101 to cope with.

Outstanding for the graduation representatives were Carleton Clifford, Dick Carroll, and Charlie Brothers.

As usual, Mr. Keefe picked many of his varsity, and all of the junior varsity material from the boys who participated in the tourney. The varsity basketball lettermen served as referees during the games.

Freshmen Develop Basketball Talent at R. H. S.

Although not enjoying as prosperous a season as past freshmen combines have, the Class of 1953 was good enough to go to the semi-final round of the annual Freshman-Sophomore tournament, before losing out.

As far as class basketball was concerned, the future Raiders had a firm hold on last place.

"Yogi" Garcia, Jim Gray, Pete Perkins, Steve Lyne, and Bradley Sanborn were the mainstays of the team. Garcia and Grady played on the team during the tournament only, because both boys were seeing action as JV's.

Row two: Gordon Stevens, Henry Dahlgren, Norman Davis, Carroll Waite, Donald King, Mr. James Canary, Coach.

The seniors, led by Carleton Clifford, the high scorer, "Fritz" Richmond, Charley Brothers, Ed Warner, and Walt Johnson, captured the class championship of the school with an undefeated slate. The juniors ended in second place, with the sophomores and frosh following respectively.

Ski Team Plagued by Lack of Co-operative Weather

Row two: Mr. Thomas H. White, Coach; Richard Adams, John Stetson.
Row three: Donald Howland, Alan MacPherson, Theodore Willis.
Row four: James Austin, Herbert Moore, Donald LaBrake, William Battles.

Considering the absence of old man winter for the first couple of months of the skiing season, the boys of the Rutland high ski team did a commendable job, taking a fifth place in the state meet, after qualifying with a fourth in the district.

Standouts on the squad were Don LaBrake, "Squeak" Squires, Bill Battles, and Don Howland. All these slopers received letter awards at the conclusion of the year's activity, with all of the above, except Howland, being repeaters.

Squires and Battles will graduate, leaving LaBrake and Howland as the returning lettermen for next year.

Skill and Safe Handling Stressed in Rifle Club

Mr. Clarence Bugbee directed the various activities of the Rifle Club this year as he has for the past two years. The membership of the club is limited to thirty-eight members. The purpose of the club is to instruct students in controlling firearms safely. The Rifle Club also provides an extra-curricular activity in which letters are earned. Those members who have already received their letter and have qualified for a star are Rachel Homeister and Clifford Wisell. Audrey Ackley and Ernest Priest received letters this year.

The club participated in the National Rifle Association Junior Postal Matches. The girls' team ranked twenty-third in a field of fifty-three teams. It also took part in the Vermont State Junior Gallery at Northfield on April twenty-second. Audrey Ackley ranked third in the sectional match. The National Rifle Association shoulder-to-shoulder match, in which the R. H. S. Rifle Club cooperated, was held in Northfield on March 11.

Following are the scores of the matches which the club participated in:

	OPPONENT	RHS
Proctor Junior Rifle	806	782
Lyndon Institute	893	782
Amherst Central High, Snyder, N. Y.	775	774
Vermont Academy	762	782

Dumont, N. J.	819	770
Burlington	809	831
Cathedral	753	831
Burlington Junior Rifle Club	824	831

The members ended the year with a bang by attending their annual banquet.

1st row: Rodney Whitney, Gene Tappan, Fred Galarneau, Wayne Osgood, Richard Ward, Fred Whitcomb, George Favor, William Eutterly.
2nd row: Richard Crossman, Nelson Smith, George Petty, Fred Amidon, Nancy Ward, Rachel Homeister, John Stetson, Joel Farrell, Fred Taylor, Philip Fowler.
3rd row: Norman Davis, Clifford Wisell, Richard Hudson, Jane Herrick, Katharine Billings, Mr. Clarence Bugbee, Coach, Dolores Cameron, Audrey Ackley, Richard Lane, Jack Seward, Ernest Priest.

Underclassmen Develop Promising Track Team

 Row two: Joseph Donnelly, Donald Wilder, Richard Hudson, Richard Lane, William Farwell, George Hansen, Richard Kaeller.
 Row three: Joseph Roberts, Donald Gilman, Thomas Dolan, Robert Brown, Robert Sharron, John Hartigan, Donald Kingsbury, Frederick Galarneau, Donald Howland.
 Row five: Donald Gilman, Richard Pratt, Alan MacPherson, Donald Evans, Mr. Howard W. Douglas, Coach; Joel Farrel, Fred Smith, Fred Hyland.

Rutland had to try four times before notching their initial triumph of the cinder season, but that was an excellent accomplishment considering the inexperienced material which Coach Howard Douglas found at his disposal as the track and field campaign began.

Once the season was underway, it was evident who the four men were who would carry much of the team's victory potential. Co-captains Walt Johnson and Bill Frappier, newcomer Bernie Fitzsimmons, and Don Howland were Rutland's men of the hour every time the Redskins were called to duty.

First, Keene, N. H. snapped the Raiders' 14 consecutive meet victory skein, by dumping Rutland on the RHS oval. Next, Brattleboro did away with Rutland's record of being undefeated in state competition since April, 1947, in the year's second meet.

GOOD FOR A FIRST!

WALTER JOHNSON

After being shoved around once again by Lyndon Institute on the latter's field, Rutland came sprinting back by blasting Springfield and Bellows Falls, in their annual Triangular Track meet on the Rutland grounds. In this scrap, Rutland compiled 64 tallies, to Springfield's 46 and Bellows Falls's 33.

Johnson proved to be one of the state's very best in the discus and shotput, as did Frappier in his specialties, the high and low hurdle events.

Fitzsimmons caught the track bug this year, and divided his talents between the broad and high jump, the 220 yard dash, and the quartermile jaunt. Howland was Rutland's big power in the javelin, as well as the 220 and 440.

Other members of the 1950 edition of the Rutland track squad, and in whom may lie the basic necessities in forming Rutland High School into a great cinder power once again are: George Cady, Dick Guimond, Joe Roberts, Bill Goldman, Ronald Lucas, George Hansen, Don LaBrake, Warren Tilton, Joe Donnelly, Steve Levenson, Bill Farwell, Dana Kingsbury, Jim Jeffords, and Don Wilder, Thomas Dolan, Russell Shappy, Martin Welch, Donald Sharon, Peter Perkins. Raiders Carry High Hopes Through Season

Row two: Olaf Garcia, Sanford Guynup, George Greene, Robert Miles, Richard Grace, Robert McConnell, Malcolm Guild.

Row three: Mr. Lloyd Flaitz, Coach; Herbert Moore, Bernard Rome, Nelson Baldwin, Peter Chilos, Gordon Stevens, Edwin Turner, John Stetson, Manager.

This spring, Rutland High had all the ingredients which make up a winning prescription; so Coach Lloyd Flaitz placed his bumper crop of material where it would serve to the best advantage.

Rutland's representatives to the baseball diamond played their parts well in the first half of the season, as they picked up six victories and but two verdicts on the loss column.

Triumphs over the high schools from Glens Falls, New York; Bennington, and Springfield were the highlights of the early season, for the RHS Red Raider nine.

Glens Falls, which was supposedly one of the powers of the Gotham state, was an easy touch for Rutland, as Coach Flaitz's faithful clubbed out a 7 to 2 decision.

Both Bob Sharrow and Bob Miles got off to rocket-assisted take-offs from the batting cage, as the two were crowding .500 averages.

Sharrow did a complete about-face in his playing, compared to his mediocre '49 showing. He was the best of a fine lot of base runners present on the Rutland squad this year, as he stole seven sacks, in as many attempts, in the initial eight games. As a whole, the Warriors stole 20 out of a possible 21 bases over the same duration.

One of the changes this semester was the switching of Bob Miles from behind the plate to third base. Miles made the change expertly, as his strong throwing arm will testify. Bob was the clutch hitter of the team once again, just as he had been a year ago.

To take Miles's vacant backstop post was a freshman, "Yogi" Garcia, who handled the tools of catching with the grace of a veteran.

Jim Guild, starting at the initial bag for the third season, and George Greene, a newcomer at second base, rounded out Rutland's reliable inner defense.

TONY CALLS IT!

Two seniors and a sophomore composed the outfield, as second year men, and consistent-hitting Malcolm Guild patrolled the left field sector, while fine-fielding Bob Perkins performed in center. "Butch" Fuller was back in his right field saddle for the second year, turning in a capable job.

Rutland's mound contingent was more than adequate, with such fine veterans as "Bud" McConnell, Jim Guild, John Young, and Carleton Clifford sharing the work. The two speedball pitchers, McConnell and Guild, were undefeated in the first half of the campaign, while Young and Clifford suffered one defeat apiece.

VARSITY CLUB

Sixteen new members were admitted into the Varsity Club this year, and this increased the size of the club beyond the usual membership. Included in the new aggregation were the following: William Smith, Olaf Garcia, Donald Howland, and George Cady. All of these boys made their appearance due to their varsity football service.

Newcomers from the basketball ranks were Richard Grace, Bernard Fitzpatrick, and Vincent Bernardo. Malcolm Guild was the lone baseball representative; while Richard Armstrong and Dick Hudson entered via the manager route.

All the new members were presented with varsity club pins which signify membership.

The members of the Girls' Athletic Association directed the general sports program for girls with great success this year. Miss Judith Swift, physical education director, acted as faculty adviser of the group.

There were twenty-three girls eligible for membership under the rules of the new constitution. These rules provided for a point system for participation in activities with a minimum of twenty-five points necessary for membership.

The officers of the association were:

President	MARTHA EDSON
Vice President	MARY JEFFORDS
Secretary	BARBARA ADAMS
Treasurer	BEVERLY GOULD
Chairman of Sports	MARY BRADDER

The sports program began in the fall with field hockey which was directed by Gloria Pratico. Jane Perkins was in charge of baseball, and Beverly Gould acted as chairman of softball.

Bowling was introduced this year as a year around sport. About forty girls participated in this new activity.

Dues of fifty cents were assessed on each member, and a fudge sale yielded seven dollars. This money was used to pay part of the price of the membership pins and also to buy the Girls' Sportmanship trophy.

During the course of the year letters were awarded to the members of the winning class teams. Awards numerals were given to individuals at the end of the year based on personal activity points.

Front row: Rosemarie Plizga, Gloria Pratico, Merlyn Davis, Carlene Johnson, Carolyn Ackley, Janis Bresnahan, Barbara LaPlant, Cornelia Herrick, Jane Perkins, Theodora Phillips, Janice Stone.

Athletically-Minded Girls Wield Sticks in Fall

Under the able direction of Miss Judith Swift, a total of fifty-five athletic-inclined Rutland High School lassies (nineteen seniors, fifteen juniors, sixteen sophomores, and sixteen freshmen) were selected to represent their classes in a Round Robin Tournament played during the autumn months.

After weeks of practice, the games started on the twenty-fifth of October and continued through to November tenth, with the senior and sophomore pucksters clubbing their way to a first-place tie, winning two games, losing none, and tying one. Old Man Winter and his snow made a play-off between the two impossible.

Both the senior and sophomore girls were awarded the newly-designed letters, which have RHS instead of the customary class numerals. Seniors awarded hockey emblems were Barbara Adams, Lorraine Bellamy, Mary Bradder, Nancy Buchheim, Alice Chellis, Patricia Chilos, Jacqueline Daley, Beverly Ewing, Beverly Gould, Mary Jeffords, Dorothy Martell, Olivene Seward, Patricia Shappy, Annette Sharon, Beatrice Soulia, Jean Stevens, Audrey Stoodley, Margaret Westburg, and Doris White.

	WON	LOST	TIED

Girls Engage in Hardwood Winter Activities

Under the supervision of Miss Judith Swift and the Girls' Athletic Association, the girls conducted a successful basketball season. The homeroom games were close and the final results proclaimed 211, the Champion Home Room Team; and 114, the Consolation Winner. Home room members who performed creditably in these games were chosen to make up class teams. Each class played all the other classes and were awarded two points for each win, one for a tie, and zero for a loss. The final points were:

Juniors	6
Seniors	4
Sophomores	2
Freshmen	0

There was an innovation this year, for a school team was chosen and sent to Poultney to play other schools.

Seniors: Jacqueline Daley, Mary Bradder, Alice Chellis, Patricia Shappy, Martha Edson, Nancy Buchheim, Lorraine Bellamy, Mary Jeffords, Doris White.

Juniors: Shirley Tryon, Janet Duval, Jean Turner, Carlene Johnson, Ruth Armstrong, Jane Perkins, Eleanor Soulia, Carolyn Ackley, Beverly Holcomb, Gloria Pratico, Janet Shortsleeves.

Sophomores: Pearl King, Geraldine Cheney, Carole Franzoni, Patricia Martell, Alice Hodgdon, Patricia Brackett, Charleen Burke, Clara Melen.

Freshmen: June Cheney, Arleen Mayer, Patricia Black, Patricia Cheney, Joan Brewster, Reta Bushee, Linda McKerley, Sue Ormsby, Betty Cameron.

Strike!! No, it isn't the baseball umpire calling a bad pitch, but an R. H. S. lassie knocking over all ten pins. Bowling has been popular this year as an organized sport for girls. Under the direction of Miss Judith Swift, scores of novice bowlers flocked to the Rutland Bowling Center every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. From the drove of beginners, ten experts have emerged. They are Roberta Cook, Patricia Shappy, Jane Perkins, Ruth Davidson, Katharine Billings, Ruth Armstrong, June Cheney, Gloria Pratico, Eleanor Soulia, and Janet Fifield.

The girls being allowed the use of the reserved alleys at half price enabled a large group to participate. As it became evident that bowling was a must in girls' athletics, Kegler Klub cards were issued which permitted girls to use the alleys at a reduced rate. With the sport now fully organized, the girls have high hopes that they will be able to arrange a league for competition with other schools bowling teams.

.....Photo Engraving, too HAS COME A LONG WAY!

When Grandpa went to school, good yearbook engravings were truly a luxury; expensive hand methods were necessary to turn out plates that would be considered mediocre today. But now, the Basil Smith System, utilizing the latest in machinery and production methods in its eastern and mid-western plants, assures you of fine craftsmanship and personalized service at a price your school can afford.

Service as near as your post office
